

Highly accomplished and lead teacher:

Understanding evidence and creating your portfolio

In order to support members in engaging with this process, the QTU has developed a new training program to supplement those already being delivered. The intent of the program will be to assist participants in realistically analysing their work and their evidence against the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers, in order to develop better evidence sets, and/or make more informed decisions around readiness to apply.

The workshop focuses on how to plan for certification, including approaches to collecting, collating and annotating evidence. Participants will learn strategies for selecting meaningful evidence and discuss ways to present evidence for easy access and interpretation by assessors. The workshop assumes a degree of prior knowledge about the certification process which can easily be gained through completion of the introductory modules developed by the Department of Education.

As with previous programs offered by the QTU, this will be fully funded and FREE to QTU members. Sessions will be presented by experienced assessor and QuEST Professional Development Officer, Rebecca Hack, assisted at times by other Officers of the QTU.

This workshop has been developed to compliment rather than replicate workshops being offered by the Department of Education.

What Queensland teachers are saying:

"I have attended four workshops – this was by far the most informative and it provided the details and knowledge I needed to feel more confident about my application. Direct, informative and concise."

"Very realistic/practical that provided opportunities to see this process through the lens of an assessor."

"Excellent introduction to the process! Appreciated the honesty and focussed answers!"

Programs delivered by QuEST are recognised as legitimate professional development by the Department of Education and Queensland College of Teachers. As such, it is appropriate to apply for release and funding through your normal school professional development processes. QuEST reserves the right to cancel a program should there be insufficient registrations.

The presenter

Rebecca Hack has 25 years of teaching and school leadership experience. During the first two phases of the HAT/LT pilot Rebecca was an assessor and moderator of the certification process across the state. Rebecca has worked across primary, high school and special education settings, winning several teaching awards. She is substantively a Band 9 Principal and is currently working as the Professional Development Officer for the Queensland Teachers' Union, and has delivered training to over 6000 teachers and school leaders in this role.
